Health Insurance

Employees may choose one of three different fully-insured health insurance plans offered by WWU. Two of these are PPO plans and one is a high deductible plan, which may be paired with a Health Savings Account. Coverage is effective the first day of the month following the employee's first day of employment.

Life Insurance

WWU provides $25,000 of life insurance coverage and an additional $25,000 of Accidental Death and Dismemberment coverage for employees. The benefit amount decreases at age 70. Refer to coverage booklet for full details. Coverage is effective the first of the month after the employee's first day of employment.

Long Term Disability Insurance

Benefits become effective after 90 days of total disability, which are determined by medical reports and are intended to supplement Social Security disability income. This plan insures payment of 60% of earnings prior to disability up to a maximum of $8,000 per month.

Retirement

All Full-time and part-time employees who are at least 21 years of age are eligible to participate in the WWU 403(b) matching contribution plan after completion of 1 year of service, and 1,000 hours worked in a 12-consecutive-month period. Eligibility for matching contributions becomes effective on the first month when you meet the eligibility requirement.

You must be in an eligible employee category to enroll. WWU will match up to 4% of an employee's base salary in a 403(b) plan from those offered through the university. The maximum rate that can be matched, is 4%. Employees who are 21 years of age and have completed one year of service with the university are eligible for WWU matching contributions. There is no waiting period to begin an individual contribution plan.

Vesting – Please note that employees are vested after 3 years of continuous service with the university. Any William Woods University matching contributions will be lost if an employee leaves prior to 3 years of service with the university.

Sick Leave *

The following apply only to faculty on nine-month contracts. For calendar year appointments, the provisions of the University Personnel Manual on sick leave and vacation pertain. Accumulation of sick days will begin with the most recent employment date. Faculty accrues nine sick days per contractual year. Sick days may be used in cases of pregnancy, illness of the employee or member of the family, medical appointments, or days missed on account of inclement weather. Faculty will use a sick day for each day during which they miss either classes or office hours or a required University activity. At the end of the fiscal year, unused sick days may be accumulated, up to a total of ninety days. This accumulation of days may be used in the event of a long-term illness, serious injury, surgery, pregnancy, etc., and applied toward the 90-day elimination period provided by the University's long-term disability policy. Faculty who leave the University will forfeit unused sick time. Faculty must record and report used sick days each month on a Report Form available in the Business Office. Failure to submit the form results in the loss of accrued sick days for the reporting period. If a faculty member must be absent from a class due to illness, he/she must notify the division chair or the Registrar so that provision may be made for sending timely notification and instructions to the class.
